A bright, airy character is established in this apartment home from the moment you step in, thanks to the open concept as well as the light colour palette.

Along the walls from the dining area to the living space, a marble wallpaper pattern is applied above the striped baseboard, giving a classy and elegant feel. The white marble-top dining table encircled by deep black chairs with golden detailing lends a slight edge to the space, matched by the golden light fixture hanging above. The designers use little décor pieces such as golden candles and a golden pot to ensure a sense of continuity and coherence.

Next to the dining area is the bar. A lovely metal-wire shelving unit designed for holding wine bottles and glasses is aptly used here. The textured wallpaper with golden details gives a classier touch, indicating the bar setting.

The living room is kept simple and breezy with a roomy grey couch with two matching photos framed above it. The TV console stretches along the wall with striped detailing matching the wall baseboard. Circular coffee tables and a soft white rug is used as décor. Display cabinets with brownish glass doors allow the residents to input their personality.

Over in the bedroom, we see a shift in the ambience. The cosy wooden flooring adds depth and intimacy, as does the dark grey baseboard. The golden detailings in the wall are sophisticated and classy, elevating the vibe in this room. A table and chair setup is found in the corner of this room for a touch of functionality. A white wardrobe helps to lighten the mood here.

The same concept is extended to the next bedroom, which the main difference being the table. This unique table has two parts to it—a lower and a higher part. This adds intrigue and a unique detail to the room.

In the final bedroom, there is a more unique setup thanks to the elevated area where the mattress is. A L-shaped study table built against the wall makes this a convenient room for those who are studying or working from home. Lots of storage space can be found in this room. Overall, this home is one that is peaceful and soothing with a touch of classiness. ©
